

The Reputation of the owner, breeder, consignor and their reasons for selling are important to investiture.

Note foaling date when judging individuals. Early foals have a racing advantage. Late foaling dates can effect price.

The barn number where the horse will be located. Not all sales companies print the barn numbers in the catalog so you will have to stop by the stable office to pick up a consignor location

KEE 4/01

If this horse was a broodmare, her produce record as well as the stallion she was bred to in the current year, the date of the last service, and her pregnancy status would be here at the end of the page. However by including all that additional information, you lose some of the pedigree of the page. It is important to research the pedigrees of those mares more indepth.
